

Adding Value to Your Team

Students in the Justice and Legal Studies program examine law, justice, and judicial processes in Canada and in a global context. They learn how to evaluate how justice and legal institutions both shape and are shaped by government and society and how the law and legal processes can either enhance or frustrate the pursuit of justice and the goal of improving life.

University of Guelph Advantage

The Justice and Legal Studies (JLS) program is an interdisciplinary program administered by the Department of Political Science. This innovative program examines a broad range of justice and legal issues. It helps students build a foundation of understanding of the principles of law, justice, and the resulting social and community-based services. Students then choose an area of emphasis to focus their studies which can include:

- Canadian Politics and Governance
- Global Relations and Governance
- Business and Management
- Gender and Sexuality
- Arts and Humanities

Our co-op process responds to your needs. Employers can post, hire and interview throughout the semester and our students are available for 4 or 8 month work terms. The Experience Guelph hiring tool makes hiring Guelph co-op students easy!

Student Strengths

- Specialized skills in legal research and a clear understanding of legal processes in Canada and in a global context.
- Strong analytical, research, critical thinking and writing skills that can be applied to social, criminal, government, and corporate policy formation.
- Knowledge and skills required for critical analysis of legal and justice issues involving social and political topics.
- Understanding of the legal landscapes behind issues such as immigration, racial and gender inequality, and free speech.
